

Drosophila (Sophophora) triauraria* Bock & Wheeler, 1972

Diagnosis. Male, fore tarsomeres I and II each with longitudinal sex comb covering nearly entire length of tarsomere (the montium group); aedeagal complex (aedeagus fused with postgonites) with a pair of tiny claws at dorsolateral corners in medial portion; protrusion of hypandrial median gonocoxite small, M-shaped; hypogynial, dorsal lobe large, triangular; perineal plate narrow, arched.

